

Do ever get great ideas from other pastors that don't work for you? Ever wonder why suggestions for improving your prayer life fall flat? Or why certain leaders don't seem to "click" with your personality?

God has created each of us uniquely, and that affects both the way we live out our spiritual walk and how we minister as pastors and church leaders. We'll be exploring these themes over the three days of our 2009 Pastor's Conference - February 16-18, 2009.

DIVINE DESIGN: *Leading the Way God Created Me will be held at Redwood Glen's Siden Conference Center. Besides the usual great food and comfortable accommodations, inspiring worship and personal sharing with other pastors, you get an opportunity to balance learning and input time with rest and care for yourself.

Our key presenter is Rev. Scott Wylie, pastor of the Susanville United Methodist Church. Scott is finishing his doctoral dissertation on personality types and pastoral leadership at San Francisco Theological Seminary. He is married to Rev. Denise Bowman Wylie.

In addition to Scott, spiritual directors will be on hand to help you explore your uniqueness and how you can best connect with Christ on a daily basis.
